

A Sky-Blue Bench

Bahram Rahman

Peggy Collins, Illustrator

Pajama Press (Nov 30, 2021)

Hardcover $18.95 (32pp)

978-1-77278-222-6

Aria, a young girl in Afghanistan and an amputee, is nervous about going back to school. With all the benches being burned for warmth during the war, the girls in her school have no choice but to sit on the floor, which is unbearable for Aria and her “helper-leg.” Together with her mother and brother, Aria decides to build a bench herself, painting it sky-blue: the color of “courage, peace and wisdom.”

DANIELLE BALLANTYNE (November / December 2021)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.