For many Americans, the haunting mystique of that forbidden communist island just ninety miles off our southern shore provokes both patriotic zeal and the bully's shame. Yes, it's complicated.

Yet the 250 spectacular photos in this extraordinary book—photographed by Lorne Resnick—are so vivid, passionate, and joyful, all confusions quickly melt away like ice in a glass of Havana Club. Arranged around thirty-two whimsical, poetic micro stories by Brian Andreas, this project will delight everyone.
