

Eep!

Joke van Leeuwen

Bill Nagelkerke, Translator

Gecko Press

Softcover $7.95 (151pp)

978-1-877579-07-3

A magical story about a missing girl with wings who can fly—and the disparate collection of earth-bound people who come to love her. Featuring extraordinary line drawings and original, direct writing: “The city didn’t really know where it was supposed to end. It had a very frayed edge.” The lessons in this book are countless, beginning with the notion that children are as complex and as richly endowed with eccentricities as adults. A beautiful, humorously rendered story about family. Ages nine and up.

(Spring 2012)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.