

Hannah's Way

Linda Glaser

Adam Gistavson, Illustrator

Kar-Ben Publishing

Softcover $7.95 (26pp)

978-0-7613-5138-2

After her family moves to Minnesota so her father can look for work during the Great Depression, Hannah is the only Jewish child in her class. She's lonely. But the opportunity to go on a picnic and meet new friends brings on anxiety for the young girl, whose observant family forbids riding in vehicles during the Sabbath. How can she communicate her concerns to her teacher and classmates? And what will their reaction be? A tender coming-of-age story, beautifully rendered. Ages five to nine.

(Spring 2012)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.