

Home in the Cave

Janet Halfmann

Shennen Bersani, Illustrator

Sylvan Dell Publishing

Hardcover $17.95 (32pp)

978-1-60718-522-2

All things nocturnal and furry come alive in this unusual story of a baby bat learning about his surroundings. After a fall from his customary perch, and with Pluribus the rat as his guide, the little bat encounters all of the other critters—many are eyeless insects—that rely on bats for their survival. The baby bat welcomes his mother's eventual return from foraging, but he also prizes his newfound independence. Fascinating scientific tidbits are made palatable and entertaining.

Ages four to nine.

(Spring 2012)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.