Prepare to blast off to the stars—and with the knowledge of the equipment necessary to get back to Earth—with this eye-catching board book that reveals the mechanics behind the magic of going into space. Cutout forms reveal the process of interstellar travel layer by layer, from the launchpad to the moon, and then back again, shedding bits of the ship along the way. The parts of the rocket are well labeled and surrounded by fun details and excited astronauts in this imagination-sparking book.
