

Hudson Hates School

Ella Hudson

Frances Lincoln (April 2011)

Hardcover $16.96 (32pp)

978-1-84780-033-6

Poor Hudson! He can't stand school, especially on Fridays, when spelling tests embarrass him in front of his classmates. He just can't get the hang of it, and doesn't understand why. Luckily, Hudson's teacher recognizes signs of dyslexia and Hudson begins meeting with a tutor who explains why his brain works differently and has to try even harder to make sense of printed words—odds are he's more creative! Everything begins falling into place. The book's author/illustrator is dyslexic and manages to remove the fear and stigma from this challenging condition. Ages four to eight.

(March / April 2011)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.