

Lug, Dawn of the Ice Age: How One Small Boy Saved Our Big, Dumb Species

David Zeltser

Egmont (Sep 9, 2014)

Hardcover $15.99 (192pp)

978-1-60684-513-4

Being banished from his clan after failing his initiation into cavemanhood is the least of Lug's problems when signs of the ice age appear and the threat of extinction looms. Hiding his art cave from his no-nonsense father and befriendng a Neanderthal and a girl from the enemy clan, this clever hero concocts a plan to save humanity, all while avoiding the dangerous sabertooth tigers that creep in the jungle. Suspenseful and smartly humorous, this novel delights with its themes of brains-over -brawn and the power of friendship. Ages eight to twelve.

AIMÉE JODOIN (Summer 2014)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.