

Shifty

Lynn E. Hazen

Tricycle Press (September 2008)

$15.99 (162pp)

978-1-58246-257-8

In Shifty (Tricycle Press, 978-1-58246-257-8), Lynn E. Hazen's title character (call him Soli, please) is a pragmatically adaptable foster child of fifteen who roams San Francisco in his guardian's van without a driver's license. He habitually breaks rules while fulfilling responsibilities thrust upon him and gets into scrapes with police, a bag lady, and a would-be kidnapper. In state care since infancy, Soli wants to know his history. He comes to realize that his household—composed of a hero-worshipping little girl, a crack baby, and a laid-back foster mother—is a loving family. Soli describes his caretaker, funning on the Eurythmics: “Martha’s sing-ing out of tune again along with the oldies on the radio. As usual she’s getting half the lyrics wrong. I swear I hear her singing, ‘Sweet dreams are made of cheese...’” When a stone-hearted social worker decides to break them up, the quick-witted but shortsighted Soli acts to prevent it.

(August 18, 2009)

Disclosure: This article is not an endorsement, but a review. The publisher of this book provided free copies of the book to have their book reviewed by a professional reviewer. No fee was paid by the publisher for this review. Foreword Reviews only recommends books that we love. Foreword Magazine, Inc. is disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.