Through this stunning introduction to the groundbreaking artistry of the Renaissance painter Pieter Bruegel, follow the wordless antics of a dog and a hunter as they traipse through scenes inspired by Bruegel's landscapes and interact with characters from his well-loved paintings, created in the mid-1500s. A brief biography and a key highlight Bruegel's history and accomplishments, revealing which paintings the featured figures and vignettes were borrowed from, and listing the museums around the world that house them.
